

Gov. Dever Signs Bill To Pave Alewife Brook

Governor Pal A. Dever has signed House bill No. 741, which provides for the extension of the North and South Metropolitan Sewer Project, will eliminate pollution in the Alewife Brook, Mystic River, Charles River; and the extension of the sewer trunk lines to Deer Island where a disposal plant will be built to relieve the pollution of the water in these rivers and brooks and Boston Harbor.

This legislation, coupled with legislation for bill No. 2641, which calls for the extension of the North and South Metropolitan Sewer Project, will eliminate pollution in the Alewife Brook, Mystic River, Charles River; and the extension of the sewer trunk lines to Deer Island where a disposal plant will be built to relieve the pollution of the water in these rivers and brooks and Boston Harbor.

Representative Keenan filed this legislation as a result of a campaign issue and carried both bills through the House.

For many years, there has been public demand for this change and at the present time, new sewerage pipes are being held in the Alewife Brook area to eliminate pollution and restore the Alewife Brook and Mystic River to their original attractiveness.

Rep. Henry E. Keenan has made a long study of this particular area which has involved many engineering problems that have been set forth in reports that date as far back as 1904. The most extended report was made in 1904 by John R. Freeman, Consulting Engineer, as a result of Chapter 32 of the Acts of the Legislature of 1903. In those days this area was confronted with backing up of high tide waters from Boston Harbor that at times flooded all of the marshlands between Fresh Pond, the lowlands of Belmont surrounding Little Pond and back into Spy Pond. Lacking an up to date sewerage system, this area was badly polluted.

Medical history of that time—shows a great deal of malaria existing in this location, and that this was due to stagnant water and the faulty drainage of the lowlands. When home building developed extensively in this area, sewerage systems were installed, and locks were built at Craddock Bridge in Medford to check the pollution of the waters of this district resulting from the high tides. However, as this district continued to develop as a location for homes, further pollution and sewage disposal problems confronted the Metropolitan District Commission and the local health authorities of the adjoining cities and towns.

LAST HONORS PAID TO LOCAL WAR HERO

Military funeral services for Private First Class Francis R. Townsend, son of Mrs. Mary A. Townsend and the late Anthony E. Townsend, of Arlington Heights, were held at ten o'clock Saturday morning, July 16th, from the McLaughlin Funeral Home, 54 Pleasant Street, Woburn. Committal services were held at Mount Pleasant Cemetery, Arlington.

PFC Townsend was killed in action with the famous 82nd Airborne Division in Belgium in 1944. He made many flights over Holland—Belgium and Germany, after landing in Normandy on D-Day and received the Air Medal, the Combat Infantry Badge, two Presidential citations and the Purple Heart medal.

He enlisted in the Army in 1942 from Arlington, volunteering for the glider infantry.

In addition to his mother he leaves two brothers, Edwin A., of Lynn, and William G., of Woburn. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Mary Marshall of Woburn and Mrs. Helen P. Murray of Uxbridge.

His body lay in state at the McLaughlin Funeral Home on last Friday evening from seven until ten o'clock.

Services Held At Fort Myer For Arlington Flier

Funeral services were held on Tuesday, July 12, at Fort Myers, for First Lieutenant James P. Hurley, a native of Arlington, who was killed during maneuvers in Japan on June 13.

Burial was in Arlington National Cemetery, Washington.

Lieutenant Hurley, who was in the United States Air Force, was born in Arlington, while his father Colonel P. J. Hurley, was stationed at the First Corps Area headquarters in Boston. Colonel & Mrs. Hurley now reside in Columbus, South Carolina.

In addition to his parents, Lt. Hurley is survived by his wife, Mrs. Jeanne Hurley, of Tacoma, Washington.

Military Services Friday For Sgt. Walter G. Hurd

Military services will be held for S/Sgt. Walter G. Hurd, of 9 Teel Street, Arlington, one of this town's war heroes, killed in action on October 31, 1944, while seeing service in Southern France and temporarily laid at rest in the United States Military Cemetery in Epinal, France, will be held Friday morning from the O'Donnell Funeral Home, 1021 Massachusetts Avenue, Arlington, with a solemn high mass of requiem at St. Agnes church at nine o'clock.

1943. Wounded in action September 9, 1944, he returned to duty on October 3, 1944.

He was formerly employed by the Boston and Maine Railroad.

Burial will be in Mount Pleasant Cemetery, Arlington.

PARENTS' NIGHT TONIGHT AT PLAYGROUND

Tonight (Thursday) will be observed as Parents' Night at all the Arlington playgrounds, from about six in the evening to 10 or 10:30 o'clock. The activities will include Father-Son ball games, Art Craft displays, Group Singing and Games. Weenie Roasts, etc. A slightly different program will be featured at each area. The public is cordially invited to attend.

SERVICES FOR GEORGE L. PARKER

Funeral services for George Lewis Parker, 75, of 18 Elmore St., Arlington Heights, an investment broker with the Boston firm of J. H. Goddard & Company, were held at the Bigelow chapel, Mount Auburn Cemetery, on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Born in Boston, he had resided in this town for the past 22 years. He leaves a wife and one son, George Jr., both of Arlington.

NAMED RED CROSS CHAIRMAN

Mrs. Herbert W. Reed, of 11 Wellington street, Arlington, has been reelected chairman of the Arlington branch of the American Red Cross. Other officers are Miss Caroline D. Higgins and Dr. L. Curtis Foye, vice chairman; Mrs. Nils Alsen, secretary and Edward P. Clark, Treasurer.

Local Prize Winner

An Arlington housewife last week won the coveted Boston Post, WBZ—Massachusetts Society for Mental Hygiene $3500 "Who is He" contest, by correctly identifying the mystery fisherman as William F. (Bill) Carrigan, well-known former manager of the Boston Red Sox baseball team, who piloted it to world's championships in both 1915 and 1916. She is Mrs. Walter W. Kelly, of 10 Park street, Arlington, formerly a marriage fifteen years ago, worked with the Industrial Accident Board in the State House.

Numerous other valuable prizes and awards too numerous to mention, will make Mrs. Kelly's life from now on, one out of a fairy tale come true.

Contracts for the construction of the low rent veterans' housing project in Arlington were awarded on Monday to G. L. Rugo and Sons, Inc., who were the lowest bidders at $1,240,474, it was announced by Governor Dever.

The project will include twenty one buildings and 126 dwelling units, a garden type development of two story brick with full basements and individual heating units. It will include seventy two-bedroom units and fifty-six three-bedroom units.

The sealed bids from fifteen contractors bidding on the general contract were opened at the office of the Arlington Housing Authority at their recent meeting. In addition, bids were opened from sub-contractors for heating, painting, etc. The bid of the Rugo Company was the lowest of the fifteen.

As a result of a conference held with the Housing Authority, the Rugo Company will substitute some of the lower sub bidders, which will give the Town of Arlington the advantage of a still better figure.

The project will consist of 22 buildings of the garden type apartment design, a total of 126 family units. The two story buildings will be of brick construction throughout and will embody full basements, individual heating units, electric ranges and refrigeration. Certain of the apartments will have two bedrooms and others will have three.

The location of the project will be at Freemont and Gardner streets, Arlington. This is a short distance removed from the Moore apartment project which is already in the process of construction.

December 1st, 1949, is the date named in the specifications providing for the completion of 50 per cent of the dwelling units for the Arlington Housing Authority.

The building cost per family unit as figured on the basis of the Rugo Company's bid, is about $9845.00.

The bids for the general contract were as follows:

G. L. Rugo & Sons, Inc.	$1,241,717

TO BE FEATURED AT MEDFORD BOWL MON.

Nell Stewart, winner in Atlantic City Beauty Pageant as 'Miss Ohio' of 1946, to be featured at Medford Bowl on Monday night, July 25.

Miss Nell Stewart, who was 'Miss Ohio of 1946' in the Atlantic

City beauty pageant and who is now one of the few women wrestlers who combine top feminine beauty with athletic skill, will be featured in the main event opening the outdoor wrestling season at the Medford Bowl next Monday night. The Bowl is located on the Revere Beach Parkway.

Miss Stewart will be matched against Cecilia Blevins of Oklahoma, a rising star on the wrestling firmament. Both young ladies have promised that they will provide plenty of action for the fans on Monday.

The semi final of the night will be a battle between Arthur Giroux known as "Mr. Europe" and Leslie Ruffin of Lawrence. Ruffin is well known to fans in these parts. The special of the night will bring together Mike Clancy of Woburn and Ivan Vakturoff, known as the "Russian Lion." The two bouts are sure to prove popular with the fans

Arlington Girl Bride
In Church Ceremony

One of the season's loveliest weddings took place recently at St. James Church, Arlington Heights, when Miss Anne R. Cravott, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Cravott, of 260 Appleton street, Arlington, exchanged marriage vows with Robert Leo Healy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Healy, of 127 Brattle Street, Arlington. The ceremony was performed at a nuptial mass celebrated by Rev. Charles McCarthy, a curate of St. James church. A wedding breakfast and reception followed the church ceremony, at the Shaker Glen house in Woburn.

Mrs. Daniel C. Hayes, of Roxbury, served as the matron of honor and Joseph Rogers, Jr., a cousin of the bridegroom, served as best man. The ushers included Joseph Cogan and Albert Bates, of this town.

The bridegroom, who served with the Sea Bees in New Guinea, during the recent war, is a sales manager for the Universal Television Sales Company, in Boston.

Following an extended wedding trip to New York, Mr. Healy and his bride will make their home on Mulford street, in Boston.

The union services will start at ten o'clock each Sunday morning.

COL. McMURRER HEADS UNIT

Colonel James F. McMurrer, of 28 Davis Avenue, Arlington, has been appointed commanding officer of the Army's Reserve 1104th Infantry Training Division Artillery, Colonel Frank A. Jones, senior army instructor for the organized Reserve Corps here, announced this week.

BECOMES BRIDE OF ARLINGTON MAN

Miss Catherine F. Munyon, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Munyon, of 3 Rindgefield street, Cambridge, became the bride on Saturday, in St. John's church, North Cambridge, of Alton J. Richard, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Richard, of 99 Massachusetts Avenue, Arlington. Mrs. Eleanor Mercier, of Somerville, was the matron of honor. George Mercier of Somerville, was the best man.

Everyland Club Circus Popular With Young Set

The Circus of the Everyland Club is now in full swing. An enthusiastic group of children took part in the meeting of the Everyland Club held at the Dallin Branch, East Branch and Junior Department of the Main Library on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons at 4 o'clock.

Mrs. Ruth Fuller is in charge of the program with Miss Jacqueline Miller assisting. Tuesday, 33 children gathered at the Dallin Branch. Lois Barnes and Virginia Lyons presented a dramatized scene from Alice in Wonderland. Martin Pelletier and Russell Foyd added their bit to the program. The children then played games planned by Allan MacKenzie and Richard Najarian. A story followed and the meeting was ended with group singing. Next week a group of fifth and sixth grade students from St. Ann's School will present part of the program and others taking part will be Alan MacKenzie, Richard Najarian, Larry Murray, Kevin Murray and Helen Campbell. There are now 10 names on the Dallin Branch Reading Honor Roll.

At the East Branch on Wednesday 32 children were present. The children began their program by taking part in a circus parade. This was followed by a dramatized version of some favorite stories. The children played some games and concluded the meeting by adding seven names to the East Branch Honor Roll. Next week's program will be presented by John O'Connor, Judy O'Connell, Gordon Gavel, Barbara Klein, Anne Carlisle and Robert Patterson.

At the Junior Library on Thursday the children paraded as circus animals to start the fun and played some games. Several of the children presented some scenes from stories and then they enjoyed a story. The Reading Honor Roll at the Junior Library now has 12 names. The room is getting to look much like a circus with its many pictures of clowns.

Garden Club Aids Flower Mission

During the months of July, August and September, the Arlington Garden Club continues to send a regular weekly hamper filled with flowers to the Benevolent Fraternity of some favorite stories. The children played some games and concluded the meeting by adding seven names to the East Branch Honor Roll. Next week's program will be presented by John O'Connor, Judy O'Connell, Gordon Gavel, Barbara Klein, Anne Carlisle and Robert Patterson.

nity Fruit and Flower Mission, which has its headquarters at the Horticultural Hall in Boston. These flowers from gardens in all parts of Arlington, have been generously contributed by the club members and friends and are packed in the hamper at the Arlington Center in Boston, on the 8:15 train. On arrival there eager volunteer workers arrange for their distribution to the needy ill, young and old, the shutins and invalids.

Arlington residents are kindly invited to share their garden flowers wherever possible with the less fortunate city neighbors. Flowers for the hamper are collected and conditioned for the hamper on Mondays. Anyone wishing to contribute, please notify the chairman before six o'clock Monday afternoons. Chairmen: Mrs. M. J. Abizaiz, 26 Florence Avenue, AR 5-0263-R; or Mrs. E. S. Greiner, 256 Washington Street, AR 5-4647-J.
